International Journal of
GENERAL SYSTEMS

A Comprehensive Periodical devoted to General Systems Methodology, Applications and Education

EDITOR: GEORGE J. KLIR, Department of Systems Science, Thomas J. Watson School of Engineering and Applied Science, State University of New York, Binghamton, New York 13902-6000, U.S.A.

MANAGING EDITOR: WILLIAM J. TASTLE, Department of Mathematics and Computer Science, School of Humanities and Sciences, Ithaca college, Ithaca, New York 14850, U.S.A.

Aims and Scope

The International Journal of General Systems is an interdisciplinary periodical devoted primarily to the publication of original research and educational contributions relevant to general systems. Tutorial and survey articles, reviews, bibliographies, short notes and letters, and a calendar of forthcoming activities related to general systems will be included. Basic areas covered by the journal are: Foundations of general systems theory and methodology, applications of the methodology in various branches of science, technology, humanities, and the arts, general systems philosophy, and general systems education. Examples of topics within these areas are: Principles of modeling and simulation, systems analysis and synthesis, optimization, identification, general principles of experimentation, problems associated with extremely complex systems, studies concerned with various classes of systems such as self-organizing, adaptive, self-producing, fuzzy, hierarchical, etc. In order to cover the diverse activities in general systems research and education throughout the world, an editorial board with international representation has been selected. Three major criteria determine the selection of submitted articles: originality (except for invited tutorial articles), high professional quality, and direct relevance to general systems research or education.

Notes for contributors and editorial addresses are provided at the back of the journal. Books for review should be sent direct to the editor, and not to the publishers.

A GUIDE TO THE COMPREHENSIVE INDEX

It has become increasingly evident, over the past year, that a mechanism should be developed by which a researcher could easily access any of the multitude of articles which have been published in this journal since 1974. While a short index is published at the end of each volume, one might have to traverse through most of them before finding a specific article. Also, if one were interested in identifying all the articles which focused upon a particular field or area of study, the task would indeed be formidable. Hence, George Klir, the editor, and I began the task of sorting through all the issues of the journal and compiling this index; I confess that it has been anything but trivial. While we compiled the data for the manuscripts, we also recognized that the book reviews which have been published would also be of considerable benefit if access to them could be facilitated.

This comprehensive index for the first 20 volumes of the journal is thus divided into two distinct parts: the first part is a listing of the manuscripts, and the second part is a listing of the book reviews.

The first part, called the manuscript lexicon, is bipartite and consists of a listing of the papers both by author and by keyword; an explanation is required. Each article is listed under its author's name in order by the year in which the article was published. In cases where multiple articles were published in the same year, each is arranged in volume/page order so that the researcher will always be in immediate possession of the temporal order and corresponding "interest" order of the author. In the case in which multiple authors exist, each author's name is listed but, in order to prevent an inaccurate reference from being generated by mixing the order of authors, a cross-listing maps all authors to the first author's name. Thus, if one cannot remember the order in which the authors' names appear in the article, one need only to look up any author and, with the cross-index listing, one should be able to locate the article in question with minimal effort. The full article reference is listed only under the first author's name.

The listing by keyword was an agonizing experience in which George and I debated and discussed for long periods into what categories to place each article. At first, we considered using the key terms listed below each abstract, but it immediately became evident that such a listing would not be practical for this index. Finally, we devised a comprehensive, yet general, listing of keywords into which we could place each manuscript; be advised that each manuscript is listed under at least two keywords. In our judgement this partial ordering of articles presents an effective way by which classes of manuscripts can be easily identified.

The second part, called the book review lexicon, is in tripartite order by author name, reviewer name, and by subject. The order by subject was deliberately restricted to a single subject and thus, a debatable judgement call was made in many instances. Books which transcend more than one subject area were placed into the category which seemed to dominate the others. Also, we distinguished between book reviews and book abstracts, by placing an "R" or "A" before its name. The book reviews are longer, more descriptive, and, possibly, somewhat controversial in content; the book abstracts are shorter and purely descriptive.

Finally, this index has been given bar "tabs" to assist in the location of the separate sections.

Suggestions for improvements in future comprehensive indices will be appreciated and should be directed to me.

LIBRARY USE ONLY

Papers should be double spaced on good quality paper with wide (3 cm) margins, single side only, and submitted in triplicate to the managing editor: William J. Tastle, Department of Mathematics and Computer Science, School of Humanities and Sciences, Ithaca College, Ithaca, New York 14850. Include your complete mailing address, complete phone number, and, if available, electronic mail address and fax number in the cover letter.

One copy of the manuscript must be the original "top" copy; Xerox or equivalent clear carbon copies are acceptable for the remaining two. Pages of each copy must be sequentially numbered in the upper right corner. Use underlines only for emphasis and where italics are intended (unless your word processor can print bold and/or italic fonts). If the manuscript is typed, a wavy underlining should be used to identify text which is to appear as bold face. Submission of a paper to this journal will be taken to imply that it represents original work not previously published, that it is not being considered elsewhere for publication, and that if accepted for publication, it will not be published elsewhere in the same form, in any language, without the consent of editor and publisher. It is a condition of the acceptance by the editor of a manuscript for publication that the publishers acquire automatically the copyright in the typescript throughout the world. It will also be assumed that the author has obtained all necessary permissions to include in the paper items such as quotations, results of government sponsored research, etc. Manuscripts are accepted only in English, and the maximum preferred length is 7500 words. Each paper requires an abstract of 150 words or less, and a set of not more than 10 index terms, which, as a group, should optimally characterize the paper. In the event the manuscript is accepted, you will be required to supply a black/white frontal photograph of each author's face along with a suitable biography. For the biography style, see any issue of this journal.

If the instructions put forth herein are not followed EXACTLY, the entire evaluation process is unnecessarily delayed, sometimes extending the response time from two or three months, to as much as twelve months. Authors are especially encouraged to carefully heed the section "References and Notes," traditionally a part of the manuscript which is not seriously addressed by authors and which results in more delays than any other factor.

INFORMATION FOR AUTHORS WHOSE NATIVE LANGUAGE IS NOT ENGLISH

It is the responsibility of the author to insure that the manuscript is submitted in a style which is acceptable and compatible to that of a native English language reader. While some editing is performed by the editorial staff of this journal, major portions of manuscripts cannot be rewritten but rather, will be returned to the author for corrections. The author should seek out suitable assistance in guaranteeing that the manuscript properly addresses the grammatical and stylistic requirements of an English language-based journal. Sometimes manuscripts are rejected because the reviewers are not able to understand the intent of the writer, even though the research upon which the manuscript is based is possibly sound and publishable.

FIGURES

All figures should be numbered with consecutive arabic numbers, have descriptive captions, and be mentioned in the text. Keep figures separate from the text, but indicate an approximate position for each in the margin. All figures must be of a high enough standard for direct reproduction. Line drawings should be prepared in black (India) ink on white paper or tracing cloth, with all lettering and symbols included. Alternatively, good sharp photoprints ("glossies") are acceptable. Photographs intended for halftone reproduction must be good glossy original prints, of maximum contrast. Clearly label each figure with the author's name and figure number, indicate "top" where this is not obvious. Redrawing or retouching of unusable figures will be charged to authors. Figures should be planned so that they reduce to 12.5 cm column width. The preferred width of submitted line drawings is 22 to 25 cm, with capital lettering 7 mm high, for reduction by one-half. Photographs for halftone reproduction should be approximately twice the desired size. A list of figure captions, with relevant figure numbers, should be typed on a separate sheet and included with the typescript.

MATHEMATICAL EXPRESSIONS

Wherever possible, mathematical expressions should be typewritten, with subscripts and superscripts clearly shown. It is helpful to identify unusual or ambiguous symbols in the margin when they first occur. To simplify typesetting please use: (1) the "exp" form of complex exponential functions; (2) fractional exponents instead of root signs; and (3) the solidus (/) to simplify fractions—e.g. $\exp x^{1/2}$. Equations must be displayed exactly as they should appear in print, and numbered in parentheses placed at the right margin. Reference to equations is to use the form "Eq. (5)" or simply "(5)". Mathematical symbols. The printer will set them for obvious groups like sin and log. Any symbol be left in roman (upright) type should be underlined; bold symbols should be underlined.

TABLES

Tables should be typed on separate sheets, numbered consecutively with roman numerals, and have a short descriptive caption at the top. They may be placed in the typescript immediately following the page of text with which they should be printed, or they may be grouped separately; in the latter case, indicate in the text where tables are to appear. Avoid the use of vertical rules in tables. Each table should be mentioned in the text. Extensive and/or complex tables will be reproduced as illustrations; therefore, they should be typed carefully and in the exact format desired. Computer printouts will normally be reproduced as illustrations.

REFERENCES AND NOTES

References and notes are indicated in the text following the Harvard style, with the full listing of references collected and placed at the end of the paper in alphabetical order by the author's last name. In cases where an author has more than one paper referenced in a given year, append a lower case alphabetic character to the year to eliminate ambiguity (see below). Do not use abbreviations in any reference except for first names and middle initials. Bibliographic items should include only works cited in the text and should appear in the following style:

Papers:

Zadeh, L. A. [1971], "Similarity relations and fuzzy orderings," Information Sciences, 3(2), pp. 171-200.

Goel, N. S., Lee B. Knox and John M. Norman [1991], "From artificial life to real life: Computer simulation of plant growth," International Journal of General Systems, 18(4), pp. 291-319.

Books:

Klir, G. J. [1985], Architecture of Systems Problem Solving. Plenum Press, New York.

Becker, Karl-Heinz and Michael Dorfler [1989], Dynamical systems and fractals: Computer graphics experiments in Pascal. Cambridge University Press, Cambridge.

Edited collections:

Ashby, W. Ross [1969a], "Self-regulation and requisite variety." In: Systems Thinking, edited by F. E. Emery, Penguin Books, Baltimore, pp. 105-124.

Ashby, W. Ross [1969b], "Adaptation and the multistable system." In: Systems Thinking, edited by F. E. Emery, Penguin Books, Baltimore, pp. 230-240.

Ashby, W. Ross [1972], "Systems and their informational measures." In: Trends in General Systems Theory, edited by G. J. Klir, John Wiley, New York, pp. 78-97.

These references would be indicated in the text as follows: [Zadeh, 1971], [Goel, et al., 1991], [Klir, 1985], [Becker and Dorfler, 1989], [Ashby, 1969a], [Ashby, 1969b], and [Ashby, 1972], respectively. If an author's name appears as part of a sentence, only the year(s) of publication should be placed in brackets, e.g., . . . Ashby [1969a, 1969b]. Observe that if a reference has more than two authors, the first author's name is used, followed by et al. and the year of publication.

TEXT HEADINGS

Type first-level text headings in capital letters over to the left; begin the text on the following line. Second-level headings should be typed in lower-case letters but with words capitalized; underline the heading and start the text on the next line. For third-level headings, only the first letter should be capital; underline, then run on the text after three typewriter spaces.

PROOFS

Authors will receive page proofs (including figures) by airmail for correction, which must be returned to the printer within 48 hours. Please ensure that a full address is given on the first page of the typescript, so that proofs are not delayed in the post. In case of co-authorship, initial submission should indicate to whom proofs must be sent. Authors' alterations in excess of 10% of the original composition cost will be charged to authors.

Reprints: Reprints may be ordered by completing the appropriate form sent with proofs.
